It Will Be Held at Huntington Wednesday of Next Week.

(E. E. Meredith Press Bureau.) HUNTINGTON, Sept. 19-What is the most central city in West Virginia?

Is it Charleston, or Elkins, or Clarksburg or what?

This question bobbed up again at Huntington this week in connection with the preliminary conference held to make arrangements for the United War Work campaign to be held in West ViVrginia November 11-18, in which the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association, the Catholic War Council (including the Knights of Columbus), the Jewish Welfare League and the Salvation Army are to merge their drives into one big patriotic charitable endeavor. George L. Goodwin, state director of the United War Work campaign, suggested Charleston as the place for a general convention, at which the work was to be outlined. Such a convention had been held at Charleston in previous campaigns he had directed for the J. M. C. A., and as Gov-ernor John J. Cornwell was bonorary chairman of the campaign and would preside, Charleston naturally came to his mind

George W. Dudderar offered his immediately rose to his feet and co-fessed that Huntington was the ce tral point of West Virginia, pointing out how accessible it was by rail, water and air, and finally convincing water and air, and finally convincing the state chairman and state directors of the organizations making up the conference that Huntington was the place to hold a big convention

Charleston would have walked away with this convention but for the difficulty in getting rooms. It pointed out that war workers attra ed to the state war convention held at Charleston this week were fir it almost impossible to get accor-
